

Stimulating & Harmonising Global Tissue & Eye Banking Activities

The 9th World Congress in Tissue Banking will be hosted by the South African Tissue Bank Association (SATiBA) on 28 – 31 October 2020 in the beautiful city of Cape Town, South Africa.

SATiBA is a not-for-profit organization that aims to support all South Africa tissue banks in terms of

- regulatory and legal matters
- data collection
- training
- accreditation
- quality assurance
- communication and collaboration

SATiBA caters for all South African tissue banks and disciplines and includes donation, storage and distribution of blood, embryo, sperm & egg, stem cells, umbilical cord, cornea, bone & tendon, aortic valves and skin. As a newly accepted observer member of WUTBA (World Union of Tissue Bank Associations), SATiBA is proud to have been granted this great opportunity and warmly invites all interested in tissue, cell & eye banking.

Speakers & Delegates

The event will feature outstanding international and local speakers and delegates from around the globe, including Europe, Australasia, South East Asia, the North and South Americas and Africa.

Benefits of Attending

This conference presents an opportunity for professionals involved in tissue, cell and eye banking for transplantation both in Africa and internationally, to collaborate and exchange information. The conference promises to attract a diverse group of industry partners, including government officials and members of transplant centres, tissue- eye- and blood banks, health care facilities and private entities.

Who Will Be Attending?

Approximately 120 - 150 delegates, including both local and international speakers, partners and exhibitors are expected to attend the 9th World Congress in Tissue Banking.

Delegates will include global representatives from various tissue banking organizations and associations and will encompass WUTBA, AATB, BAA, ALABAT, APASTB, EATB, SATiBA and non-SATiBA members including:

- Tissue, Eye & Cell Bankers, Technologists, Coordinators, Procurement officers and Students
- Medical Professionals including Burn surgeons, Orthopaedic and Cardiac surgeons and Ophthalmologists
- Healthcare and Emergency Care Professionals
- National and Provincial Departments of Health
- Forensic Pathology Service Managers
- Organ Procurement Coordinators
- Quality Management Representatives and QC Staff
- Academic institutions
